

Color System

The Money Date with Esther Odejobi color system is designed to communicate confidence, clarity, growth, and optimism. Each color represents a core aspect of the event's identity while working together to create a vibrant yet professional visual language. The palette balances trust and stability with warmth and energy, reflecting the event's mission of empowering intentional financial growth through meaningful conversations.

To maintain consistency across all brand touchpoints, each primary color is supported by a monochromatic gradient system, allowing the identity to feel dynamic, cohesive, and premium across print, digital, and environmental applications.
